Performance is an attitude

The breath-taking Audi RS 5 simply oozes confidence. The in-your-face front sweeps through raised wheel arches to culminate in either a sleek Coupé or remarkably flexible Sportback. Look under the bonnet where its powerful potential lies – a 2.9-litre TFSI twin-turbo V6 engine kicking out 331 kW and more torque than any of its predecessors.

All this beastly prowess is engineered into a car that's eager to please its driver – a dream to control and enjoyable to exploit, with agile handling that can be trusted in both wet and dry conditions. Its impressive straight-line speed and sharp cornering abilities are thanks to the standard quattro all-wheel-drive system. Despite its intimidating appearance and track-ready hardware, the real charm is how supremely comfortable the RS 5 rides over distances short or long – an involving and addictive daily drive.

Beast, beauty and brains

From the outside this predator is shaped beautifully, and on the inside, it is clear that aesthetics and creature comforts won out. The cabin is quilted with opulent surfaces front seats and three-zone auto air-conditioning.

The RS-specific trims and high-tech features like a rear-view camera system and lane change assistance ensures safety alongside sportiness. The RS 5 Sportback also delivers added luggage space with adjustable rear seats that give this sports car the ability to fit your gear.

The standard Audi navigation plus system helps you discover the best route to your destination. You'll be followed by envious looks as you link up your smartphone and blast your favourites through the Bang & Olufsen with 3D sound system.

Designed to get noticed

Whatever your perspective, the distinctively sporty character of the Audi RS 5 Coupé and RS 5 Sportback will grab attention.

Sophisticated lines draw your eyes upwards, while making the car's speedy intentions undeniable. The openly predatorial front sweeps across to a robust rear with the aggressive RS rear diffuser integrating the harmonious RS sports exhaust.

The RS 5 Coupé offers a slick 2-door option for unencumbered gallivanting or opt for the family-friendly 5-seater RS 5 Sportback. Both sprint with self-assurance, using the 20-inch wheels and RS sports suspension to cling to the road.
